

Introducing Agate Hexagon

Mesmerizing and eternal, the hexagon is one of the most ubiquitous shapes in design. While small hex tiles were first introduced in homes and public buildings in the late 19th and early 20th centuries, they have enjoyed a resurgence in popularity as designers and consumers shift attention towards modern versions of the classics.

Lunada Bay Tile has reinterpreted the hexagon for today's spaces in colorful Agate glass. The six-sided geometry offers endless design possibilities. Agate Hexagon is available in 15 colors and two finishes, pearl and silk. See the entire collection.

Marketing Tools

Concept Boards

Lunada Bay Tile is committed to the success of its showrooms and offers a variety of merchandising tools that help illustrate the design possibilities. Below are two concept boards available for Agate Hexagon. each measuring 12x19 inches.

Subscribe to our email list

#196 Agate Hexagon in Cortona Pearl with Banacha Woodhouse Bars in Natural Finish and Old Fashioned 2x4 in Banacha Silk.

#197 Agate Hexagon in Rimini Pearl with 3x6 Barley Honed Slate and Tomei Flat Bars in Cocoa Natural.

Library Boards

The 16x19 library boards fit the Lunada Bay Tile display system. We have updated the pattern board to include the new hexagon shape.

Color Boards

Grouted color boards measure 6x6 inches and will help your customers visualize the finished installation. Shown here in

Agate Hex in Pisa Pearl and Silk.

Swatch Cards

Provide your customers with handy takeaways to help them plan their project. You can order swatch cards in any quantity, and an optional branded box is also available, which can be used for display or storage. Swatch shown here in Agate Hex in Pisa Pearl. Silk is also available.

Like what you see?
Contact the sales team for samples & pricing

Join us on Facebook

Read the blog

Contact LBT