

Introducing Haisen Barcode

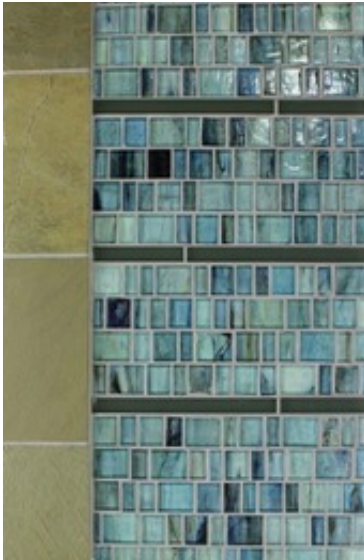

As today's designers take a dramatic departure from traditional methods, they look toward the high-tech future for inspiration. The result is a new wave of design that fuses fashion, technology, music and personal expression. Lunada Bay Tile blends these influences in Barcode, the newest pattern added to the Haisen glass tile collection. Varying sizes of glass tiles are crafted into a pattern of parallel lines that impart beauty through rhythm and repetition. See the entire collection.
