

Vintage Modern: Kemuri

Vintage modern design is all about cherry picking the best pieces from the past and using them in a fresh and original way. This design approach, which blends different styles, colors and patterns, is a way to create a look that's collected, not decorated. The juxtaposition of old and new helps to tell a story of where we were and where we are going.

That's the story behind Kemuri by Lunada Bay Tile. Taking inspiration from the glazing techniques used in traditional Japanese ceramics, pigments are misted onto modern colored glass to create a random, dappled effect. The result is a soft, cloud-like finish that honors traditional craftsmanship while updating it for today's spaces.
